

Media Release
For immediate release, 23 June 2011

Windmill and CPS partner up to serve the community

Community CPS Australia have increased their support of Windmill Theatre to forge a Community Partnership, providing unique and exciting opportunities for young people in South Australia, including disadvantaged groups and charities such as Camp Quality.

A major partner since 2007, both companies are excited to announce the increase in support, which will assist Windmill Theatre in opening its doors to the broadest possible audience through the company's Community Access and Education Program, giving 15% of all tickets away at no charge to disadvantaged groups.

The partnership funds will also launch the Hands-On Theatre for Young People initiative, which are tailored workshops specifically designed to raise awareness, enhance the creative experience and increase literacy skills of young people. Workshops will be conducted by experienced Windmill Theatre artists and are to be presented at specific Junior and Teen Camps aligned with Camp Quality, and for other charitable organisations supported by Community CPS Australia.

Windmill's General Manager/Executive Producer, Teena Munn said, "This is a fantastic opportunity to give back to the community and provide equitable access to the arts. Community CPS Australia and Windmill have a great synergy, and we are so pleased we can continue to develop and grow this partnership."

Members of Community CPS Australia will continue to receive discounted theatre tickets and invitations to behind-the-scenes events including dress rehearsals and opportunities to meet the artists.

For more information:

Jennifer Assels, Marketing and Development Coordinator, Windmill Theatre
P: 08 8415 5326 E: Jennifer.assels@windmill.org.au

Aimee Iannone, Communications Manager, Community CPS Australia
P: 08 8205 8857 E: aiannone@communitycps.com.au